Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claims contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Applicants allege that the magnesium complex in claim 1 is soluble based on the examples but upon further examination of the examples, the Examiner respectfully disagrees. In example 1 which is the first alternative embodiment, the magnesium compound is placed into a solution but this creates a slurry which is non soluble. The toluene added to the slurry increased the dissolving capability but this does not necessarily mean that the complex was soluble or that the toluene was used to dissolve the magnesium compound to make a solution as claimed in independent claims 1 and 10. Furthermore, the introduction of the butyl-octyl magnesium in 20% heptane measured in grams does not necessitate a soluble compound either. In example 2 which is the second alternative embodiment, the magnesium compound again has a weight percent in heptane but again does not necessarily require that the compound be solubilized. The product produced is a solid therefore it would be logical that the compound would remain in a solid state during reaction unless for recrystallization purposes. In example 3 which is the third alternative embodiment the magnesium chloride is added into a reaction and 2-ethyl-1-hexanol was added along with phthaloyl dichloride and kept under agitation, which leads the examiner to believe that the reaction mixture has solids and therefore would not be considered a solution. Again a solid product is obtained. The examiner went to the specification pages 5-8 to determine in a more specific way if there was a solubilized magnesium compound which was added to the reactants but the specification was silent on this matter, therefore it is concluded that the magnesium compound used was non-solubilized and therefore the amendment constitutes new matter.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in response to this office action. Assuming arguendo that the new matter is cancelled from the instant claims, the previous rejection is still applicable.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
